Digital Health

Spring 2018 Wise - This course is appropriate for undergraduate or graduate students considering careers in the health or allied health professions, service professions, and the social services, particularly those concerned with the medically under served and members of racial/ethnic/socioeconomic minority groups. This course covers topics within the US context including: the identification of appropriate and accurate materials for consumer health and family education; the ethical and organizational policy issues that arise when providing consumer and family health information in different settings; the role of the public media in disseminating health information; the health-related information needs and preferences of racial/ethnic minority populations; and health information technologies, from search engines to websites to apps, that put people in charge of managing their own health information.

Information Ethics

Spring 2018 Wise - This course examines the intersection of information, technology, law, and ethics in the digital age. Topic areas explored include: privacy/surveillance/intellectual property (patents, trademarks, trade secrets, copyright) open access/open data/open science/open government Intellectual freedom/censorship cybersecurity/ information security/cyberhacking/cybercrime information accuracy/”fake news”/disinformation/information weaponization cyberbullying/social media issues big data/data collection/data sharing/data preservation drones/robotics and AI/ internet of things/autonomous vehicles research conduct and misconduct/human protections access to information/digital divides/net neutrality academic integrity/plagiarism ethics topics of a more general nature, such as integrity, equality, truth, justice, accountability, civil discourse, conflicts of interest, transparency, respect, dignity, and inclusion. Ethical theories will be identified and students will have opportunities to explore illustrative real-world case studies and apply ethical decision-making models to professional scenarios. Codes of ethics from diverse sectors will be identified and investigated. Course activities will include lectures, small and large group discussions, readings, listenings, blackboard postings, online resources, essays and a virtual poster assignment, and other interactive and reflective activities.
